What is Fresh Food Weekly?

Fresh Food Weekly is a new food charity based in Barrie, Ontario that delivers free food to low-income families on a weekly basis. By connecting with local farmers and food businesses to collect donated food, Fresh Food Weekly seeks to improve food security by creating a reliable avenue to get fresh food into the homes of people who really need it.

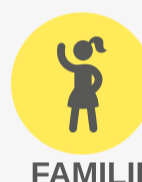

Effects of the Pandemic:

02

The ripple effects of the pandemic are impacting everyone - but it's hitting the most vulnerable in our community the hardest. There is an unprecedented need to help those who are struggling to eat on a daily basis and the goal of Fresh Food Weekly is to alleviate their struggle to some degree.

2,000  POUNDS A WEEK

220  FAMILIES A WEEK

We want to improve food security within the City of Barrie by breaking down every single barrier preventing low-income families from eating three meals a day.

How We Started

We reached out to some local farmers and asked them if they had any extra produce to donate to the vulnerable in our community.

On June 3, 2021, we started doing free fresh food delivers to 50 low-income families living in a public housing building (Summitview).

Where We Are Now

It is now September and we're proud to say we're delivering this donated produce and bread items to 220 low-income families each week all over the City of Barrie.

“ Without our donors, none of this would be possible. ”

We have 20 donors - 14 of which donate food on a weekly basis. We also have around 10 volunteer drivers who deliver this food on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Sundays.
